Ultratrex Amphibious Undercarriage AT120ER

Effluent ponds designed and built for wastewater treatment to reduce the organic content and remove pathogens in sludge from wastewater. Wastewater or "influent" enters on one side of the waste stabilization pond and exits on the other side as "effluent" during which treatment processes take place. Sludge and scum will clump together accumulates at the bottom of the ponds from day to day and lowering the effectiveness or interrupting the operation of pond. A standard excavator can carry out work from the site only. Thus, amphibious excavator comes into play to sustain and maintain the wastewater treatment in compliance with the Environmental Management Guidelines for palm oil plantation.

Attached picture is Hitachi EX120 equipped with 12.5 meter heavy duty long reach arm and 0.4m³ GP Bucket mounted on Ultratrex AT120ER amphibious undercarriage. The said amphibious excavator been used to remove sludge and deepening the effluent ponds efficiently help to digest the waste.
